

NEGROES SOON TO BE IN CAMP

District Men Find Work Getting Harder Daily.

By ANDREW R. KELLEY.

Camp Meade, Md., Oct. 8.—Word was received here today that the negro soldiers of the District will arrive at the camp between the 15th and the 18th of the month. It was to house this brigade that the extra barracks were recently constructed at the northern end of the camp. It is expected that there will be at least a full regiment of negro soldiers, and perhaps an extra battalion.

It is understood that the negro units at the various cantonments will be united later in one division commanded by negro officers.

Work Getting Harder.

Daily the work is getting down to a harder steady grind. An additional half hour of drill was tacked on to the men who have been here for the longest periods, and today the drill work began promptly at 7:30 p. m. The last group of District men underwent their physical examination and were not put through the hot paces of the first group. A number were excused because of sore arms.

The drive to raise $100,000 of the liberty loan in the camp is on in full earnest. A huge clock was erected to be placed in front of division headquarters and the drive to win the subscriptions. Today a liberty loan parade was staged, participated in by those who have already signed to take the bonds.

Need Passes to Enter.

A number of the District men were ordered to report to Division headquarters this afternoon and were questioned with reference to becoming attached to the headquarters troop. No assignments have been made yet, but the applicants are hopeful of winning this distinction to what is eventually scheduled to be the crack company of the division.

Beginning next Sunday passes will be necessary to enter the camp. The men who desire to have relatives visit them on Sunday—which it is planned to make the principal visiting day—are expected to make application to the pass officers for passes not later than Wednesday night, and they will be issued in time for mailing to Washington. It is designed to confine the visitors to immediate relatives of the men in camp.

Camp Meade Sidelights

The Machine Gun Battalion will have its own canteen, and a neat nest for the men's funds is expected once it is in operation. It will open this week.

It has taken the war to give the wrist watch standing with the blooded men. Before coming to camp the majority of the soldiers considered such timepieces particularly adapted for the soldier, but now every company can show recruits with the wrist watches.

Company C now has a talking machine in its barracks through the courtesy of the one of the visitors who also brought down a quantity of the latest records.

Top-Ser. Dowd, of Company B, has considerable voice and when Vic Olmsted gets going with the mandolin, they produce some harmony. They are in the list to entertain at the Y. M. C. A. today.

Private Langdon who played end on the District team used to play the same position on the Mohawks, which were District champions of 1916. Private Boteler got his football experience with the old Apache team and Private Fitzgerald was formerly a star on the Shamrocks.

Thomas Theodore, of Company C, can get a crowd anytime he begins his antics. His droll imitation of calisthenics is as funny as anything seen on the stage. As for the drills and salutes, officers who catch a glimpse of them cannot help smiling. He can set the men in glee by one single grin.

Private Morgan, of the 11th Field Artillery, is the first man to become a father while in camp. The youngster is a husky boy, and came into the world six hours after his father's arrival in the cantonment. Morgan was given a furlough Saturday to journey to Philadelphia and glimpse his offspring.

When payday comes around the 12th Machine Gun Battalion promises to uphold the reputation of the District for patriotism by substantial contributions to the Second Liberty Loan.

There were sixty-four men from Springfield, Mass., in the group that landed at Disney, all of whom are in the Medical Corps and are rushing through the inoculation of the District boys.

The camp has a number of morphine and other dope fiends, but the medical officers are gradually weaning them away from their habit. They say that if they follow the regulations and adhere strictly to the army life they will be broken of the craving for drugs.

Four of the District boys were forwarded to the Walter Reed Hospital for treatment. They will all be returned to the camp. Apart from that, the general health of the Washingtonians is good, and Dr. Parsons says they were among the best physically at the camp.

No less a football authority than Lieut. Gus Welch, the old Carlisle Indian gridiron star, says that the ability of Private Fitzgerald and other members of the 12th Machine Gun team will be apparent, once they have had an opportunity to practice together.

Don't Trifle with Blood Disorders; But Get Rid of Them Quickly

Cleanse the System of All Impurities.

Watch your blood supply closely; be ever on the alert lest some impurity creep in which will make impure your general health.

For upon the condition of your blood depends largely whether or not you are to enjoy that robust and splendid vitality to which you are entitled.

Some of the most painful and serious ailments are diseases of the blood, which could be avoided by the alert and prompt attention. Rheumatism comes from a tiny germ which gets its foothold when the blood supply is impure or run down. Scars is another disease which has been shown to be more easily contracted when the blood is in an

PRESIDENT MAY SOON FIX BREAD PRICES

Reports from All Over Country Show Profiteering Evidence.

With reports on bread prices all over the country showing the widest divergence, the food administration and the Federal Trade Commission are moving toward a proclamation by the President, fixing bread prices as he fixed coal prices.

Reports from consumers have been received by the food administration from fifty-two points. They show the standard sixteen-ounce loaf of bread at 20 cents, the way from 5 cents to 20 cents. All of these figures, together with millers, distributors and dealers' costs and profits have been prepared and it is understood that they will be submitted to the President.

In Pleasantville, N. J., for the week ended September 1, a sixteen-ounce loaf of bread sold for 6 cents. This was the lowest price reported for the United States. For the same week the loaf sold for 15 cents in Rock Falls, Ill., Eastport, Me., Red Bank, N. C., Miami, Okla., Galitzia, Pa., Nashville, Tenn., Laramie, Wyo., and Newport, Conn. The highest price for bread, 20 cents, was paid in Paragould, Ark.

While the bakers and distributors in many communities have patriotically renounced high profits, the figures in the possession of the food administration and Federal Trade Commission are reported to indicate that certain flour dealers and certain bakers have been guilty of the grossest profiteering.

SAW WASHINGTON BOY FIGHTING AT FRONT

Canadian Soldiers Tell Anxious Mother of Son's Safety.

That the world is very small and that the war in Europe is a cosmopolitan task, was again evidenced yesterday through a Washington incident. The mother of a Canadian soldier, who was helping a comrade wounded in action, the lady mentioned the fact that the boy was born in Washington and migrated to Canada, where he enlisted in the Canadian expeditionary forces at the commencement of war. Although the promise was made that no mention of names should be made in this case, there are other cases where Washingtonians closely connected with the present exhibition may be stated.

Chief W. S. Boehm and one of the sergeants were alike delighted to meet Maj. Price, who is a resident of Wheeling, W. Va., and was formerly in the same overseas battalion as the two men named. C. Coombs and Mrs. Coombs made inquiries in connection with their son, Charles Coombs, and found that Maj. Boehm knew him intimately, while one of the sergeants had been through the battle of Arras with Lieut. Coombs and was with him just before he was knocked out by the German asphyxiating gas in front of Lens.

Civil war veterans who have visited these huge life-size realistic pictures state that the conditions are in many cases identical with those encountered during the civil war of the states when the North and South met as enemies.

The general opinion of Washingtonians is that this exhibition sent by the Canadian government is the most interesting and instructive entertainment ever seen in the city. The proprietors of Raucher's ball room have kindly given the use of the building gratis to many citizens of the American Capital have made the visit of the wounded Canadians pleasurable.

BATTLE OF TOURS, PASTOR'S SUBJECT

"Let us be Hosiars, Buckeyes, Suckers, Badgers, yes, but let us by all means be Americans, when we come to Washington. Let us forget local provincialisms and live in the broad sense of the great national spirit of democracy prevailing in our midst today."

This was the central thought of the sermon delivered by Dr. James Shera Montgomery, minister at Calvary Methodist Church, in the first of the series of sermons discussing some decisive battles of the world. His subject for the popular Sunday evening service being: "The Battle of Marathon." The Forerunner of modern civilization.

Next Sunday his subject will be "The Battle of Tours." The Wedge that Rescued Christianity from the Yoke of the Koran.

Ogden City Pays 10c Each for Rat Tails; Boys Reaping Harvest

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 8.—Ogden City school boys are reaping a harvest of rat tails to the city dump at Monroe and Twentieth streets, the commission decided upon the 10-cent bounty to be paid for each rat tail brought in, as a precautionary measure against possible disease.

One youthful "chaser" has already collected 140 "tails." Fearing that the rodents might overrun the neighborhood adjacent to the city dump at Monroe and Twentieth streets, the commission decided upon the 10-cent bounty to be paid for each rat tail brought in, as a precautionary measure against possible disease.

URGE ENFORCEMENT OF TRAFFIC LAWS

Citizens' Meeting Takes Stand to Prevent Accidents.

No action was taken in regard to contribution as a body in the purchase of liberty bonds by the Piney Branch Citizens' Association, at its regular monthly meeting last night at Iowa Avenue Church, Fourteenth and Emerson streets northwest. It was decided that, inasmuch as many residents of that section were attached to different departments of the government and in such capacity had already subscribed for the bonds in conjunction with the department to which they were attached, it would be imposing too much of a hardship to ask them to renew their subscriptions through the association. The action noted was taken in response to an appeal from A. E. Seymour, speaker for the liberty loan committee, who addressed the association upon the subject.

The association went on record as favoring the enforcement of traffic regulations, especially in connection with vehicles. It was a member of the executive committee of the association, cited instances where certain business houses had monopolized the entire sidewalk in front of their establishments by parking their machines. He insisted that something should be done to curb this tendency to violate the District laws.

Extolls Edith Cavell As Christian Martyr

Upholding Edith Cavell, the English nurse executed by the Germans about a year ago on the charge of being a spy, as a shining example of the fearlessness which should be a true Christian's characteristic, Dr. John Compton Ball, pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church, in his sermon, "What Counts?" told his congregation that a clear conscience and a pure soul were gifts which should be regarded as priceless.

"Edith Cavell died a year ago, a martyr to the friendliness of the Hun," declared Dr. Ball, "she went to her death fearlessly, defiantly, to the end. She knew that there was nothing beyond which held terrors for her, and therefore she did not fear what was beyond."

Before the sermon services for the Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor were held.

KEITH'S RAISES FUND FOR TROOP SMOKE

Army Girl's Transport to Carry Tobacco to France.

The Army Girl's Transport Tobacco Fund made its Washington debut last evening at B. F. Keith's theater, at the intermission in the bill, and it is believed that not a single person in the capacity audience failed to add his or her bit of silver or currency to the collection boxes as they were passed around up one row and down another. The amount taken in during the ten minutes allotted to the $35.00 and five car tickets. At every performance this week the collection will be made and the receipts forwarded to the New York headquarters for the purpose intended. In the Keith New York theaters at the end of last week about $10,000 was contributed under the spur of eloquent speakers and the public consciousness that the cause is one of the worthiest of the numerous war benefactions.

By request of Manager Robbins, Frank Hogan, the attorney at law, made the introductory address at intermission and though short, it stirred the audience to the depths. He told of how the fund came into existence through Miss Carson the daughter of Col. J. M. Carson, who is in charge of the army transport service at New York. By means of the fund she has started all over the country each soldier, sailor, marine, or other defender of his country, is given a package with cigarette tobacco, papers, pipe, tobacco and matches. With each package goes a card and the army girl tells each recipient in person good-bye.

WAR CORRESPONDENT HURT.

London, Oct. 8.—The name of Geoffrey Young, English sportsman, mountaineer and war correspondent, was added to the long list of newspaper men wounded in the war. He had done considerable work as a correspondent for various English newspapers on the Western front and in Italy.

LANSING BARES PLOT

between the insurgent Cork Volunteers and the British military authorities and publicly exposed the "gross breach of faith on the part of the English with the surrendered men," according to the Bernstorff dispatch. Naturally this made the British hostile to him.

Bernstorff pointed out that Germany would have immensely increased prestige in Ireland if her candidate for the bishopric were chosen, and added that even if Cobalan were not chosen the side-tracking of the British nominee would be almost as satisfactory.

Cobalan Never Named.

Whether the German foreign office ever acted upon Bernstorff's advice is not known, but Cobalan was not appointed Bishop of Cork.

The American Secret Service has a mine of material showing how active the radical Irish element in the United States has been in German propaganda. Whether Irish and German influence acted jointly in trying to influence the Vatican cannot be ascertained, but the present instance is a most illuminating commentary on how Bernstorff worked the game of politics. In this case he was obviously paying a debt he owed Irish interests in the United States.

There was only five months before August, 1916, that Bernstorff alleged to have sent his now famous message, through Bernstorff, to Berlin. Whether this then German ambassador acted at his direct suggestion that his cause be urged by the German foreign office as Bishop of Cork can only be surmised.

Ready for Follow Up.

The State Department is prepared to follow up the exposes it has already made when conditions make the expedient and opportune. The material given to the public so far has only scratched the surface. Secretary Lansing is taking care not to surfeit the public with these interesting revelations, but is "feeding them out" in homeopathic doses. It is probable that more cablegrams of the unfortunate Luxemburg, sent from Buenos Aires to Berlin through the Swedish Legation, will be made public in the near future.

RESISTING THE ATTACK.

Who will win the battle of life or death? Other things being equal—the strongest men survive and that is why our army surgeons are careful to pick out the men with good lung expansion, keen eyes and good kidneys. In every careful examination for life insurance the water is tested to be sure there is no kidney or bladder disease, because a large percentage of our people suffer from these troubles.

When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and joints, distending bladder disorders, and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the tissues, muscles and joints, it causes rheumatism, gout, sciatica or sciatitis. This is the time to try
